
Last Chance, Melanie Butler: Nijinsky Leaves Melbourne This Week

1 message

The Australian Ballet <communications@email.australianballet.com.au>

25 February 2025 at 16:31

Reply-To: help@email.australianballet.com.au

To: mel@wordatelier.net

THE AUSTRALIAN BALLET

“MAGNIFICENT”

The Guardian

The verdict is in: Nijinsky is a masterpiece of ballet storytelling.

Critics and audiences are in raptures. John Neumeier's breathtaking exploration of Vaslav Nijinsky's genius, turmoil and legacy has wowed in its opening Melbourne performances.

From the astounding performances of Australia's finest dancers to the hauntingly beautiful score, Nijinsky is unforgettable. It will also change how you view ballet forever.

Book now →

'It enthrals and it alienates, enchants and exhausts. The Australian Ballet hurls itself into this difficult material.'

- The Age

"A genuinely poignant, respectful portrait of the artist pushed to breaking point.'

- The Age

From the theatre: Nijinsky's artistry stuns Melbourne

Melbourne can't stop talking about Nijinsky. As audiences emerge from the theatre, their voices brim with awe, captivated by The Australian Ballet's powerful tribute to the legendary dancer. From the haunting beauty of his artistry to the raw intensity of his descent, Nijinsky mesmerizes, ignites conversation, and lingers in the soul long after the curtain falls. With each rapturous review, it's clear; this is a performance Melbourne won't soon forget.

Book Now →

21 February – 1 March

Regent Theatre

Book now →

Book now →

21 February – 1 March

Regent Theatre

Tickets

Donate

Search

View in browser
Update your preferences or Unsubscribe

The Australian Ballet Level 6, 2 Kavanagh Street, Southbank VIC 3006

Creative
Australia

Creative
Australia