Unity

You came into my life like lava ~
slowly and on fire Destiny like vapor
sensed but unseen
But You, in your acuity beyond the spheres
saw the colors of my hidden countries

Comprehension stripped away disorder
I now know
separation is a deception I feel the heat of You
in my blood
see Your intensity
tattooed on my skin
desiring to become what You have always seen me to be

Now I stand
beneath a sheltering sky
exposed as a wandering child
For I am evidence that rising tides
will always crash
upon the shores of Providence
