To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is written on behalf of Ms. Abigail Wensell. Abby has been a student teacher in my second grade classroom since January. She has had ample opportunity to provide excellent instruction to her students. As her cooperating teacher, I have had many opportunities to identify her superior teaching habits and skill levels.

I have found Abby to be both reliable and efficient. She has established an excellent rapport with the students while maintaining a professional demeanor. I believe Abby's best assets are her motivation, flexibility and willingness to act on recommendations and incorporate them into her lessons. She takes suggestions and applies them immediately and efficiently. Abby has proven herself to be a valuable asset to any staff. She is very familiar with both the Common Core Standards and the Danielson Framework and she uses this knowledge to enhance each lesson. Abby faces obstacles head on with the professionalism of a seasoned teacher. She demonstrates a high level of commitment, a willingness to accept responsibility, and the interpersonal skills necessary to handle conflict and challenging situations. Abby seems to recognize that excellence is a journey and not a destination.

Abby has exceeded my expectations of a student teacher. I consider her to be an outstanding prospect, and it is my judgment that her overall potential for growth and success in the teaching profession should be rated as excellent. It has been my pleasure working with her. I recommend Abigail Wensell without reservation.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Sara A. Liberto
