Sample children's poem

The Tabby Cat and the Squirrel

A plump tabby cat and a fine, fluffy squirrel
These two were friends for many a day.
Play and play is what they would do.
They're so silly, the other animals would say!

The squirrel's tail would twitch while the kitty cat stalked.
It was all in great fun, you understand.
The cat would pounce and his friend would then run.
Their games were very lively and grand.

One morning near winter, the squirrel was in a bustle
Burying nuts was the order of the day.
Kitty said all this is boring, soon I'll be snoring
And jauntily he marched away.