Boutique Old Hollywood Makeup Studio to Open in Westlake Village

Celebrity Makeup Artist Will Unveil The Starlet Studio in October

Ashley Ann Harris, a well-known celebrity makeup artist, believes that every woman should have the chance to be treated like a glamorous movie star. With more than a decade of experience in Los Angeles and Ventura County behind her, she is opening The Starlet Studio in Westlake Village this month. Designed to feel like the dressing room of an Old Hollywood starlet with a modern twist, the Starlet Studio offers its clients exclusive red-carpet treatment. The studio will be in the popular Paseo Marketplace in Westlake Village.

Ashely explains: "When I conceptualized The Starlet Studio, I wanted to give clients a luxury makeup experience while allowing them to feel like they were stepping into their own backstage dressing room and getting pampered and primped for their big Hollywood debut." She continues that she's "excited to create magic with all kinds of women. Every girl deserves to feel like a star in her own movie." Ashley's own grandmother was an actress who worked with MGM and Warner Brothers, starring in movies with Frank Sinatra and dancing with Gene Kelly.

The cozy boutique-style Starlet Studio "has long been a dream of mine," says Ashley. She is eager to give all her clients the star treatment while providing a variety of makeup services, including makeup application for brides and bridal parties. Ashley Ann Harris is known for:

- Working with numerous celebrities such as Brooke Shields, Anna Kendrick, Hilary Duff, and Michelle Monaghan.
- Being featured in various lifestyle magazines such as Vogue Italia, GQ, People, and In Touch.
- Highlighting every woman's individuality while enacting a glamorous transformation.
