MEGHAN MARKLE'S MAKEUP LOOKS THROUGH THE YEARS

Meghan's makeup is perennially fresh, fashionable, and don't forget phenomenal. But like the rest of us, her cosmetics of choice have changed and evolved over the years.

She's creative and enjoys trying out new ideas and styles, with the confidence and elegance she needs to pull off whatever she feels like wearing.

That's why I'm taking a deep dive into the Duchess of Sussex's makeup looks through the years. Maybe it'll inspire you to make some changes to your own glow-up routine.

1. Natural Glow

Meghan was a spunky and confident teenager who loved to show off her natural glow. I don't blame her. No matter what side you come down on in the "War of the Windsors," she was, and is, indisputably gorgeous.

No matter how little makeup you wear, you need a fab lip balm. Reportedly, Meghan's favorite is Fresh Sugar Lip Treatment.

2. Fresh, Dewy Skin

When Meghan was still in the beginning of her career in 2005, she embraced a lovely, dewy fresh skin look that showed off her youth and fabulous features.

For this look, you can't go wrong with a tinted moisturizer. Meghan favors the Laura Mercier brand when it comes to this item, so check out the Laura Mercier Natural Skin Perfector.

3. Nude Lips and Bold Eyes

We all remember how popular the nude, glossy lip was in the mid-2000s and Meghan certainly loved the look.

Replicate this look with your favorite glossy nude lip product and do your eyes with the Charlotte Tilbury Luxury Eyeshadow Palette in "The Rock Chick."

4. Carefree and Beachy

In 2010, Meghan showed off her love of the beachy and breezy look. The refreshing image of a gorgeous sandy shoreline immediately comes to mind. You probably feel like going on vacation now.

You need a radiant waterproof foundation for this look. I recommend Dior Backstage Face & Body Foundation. And guess what? Meghan loves this makeup so much that she may have worn it for her wedding day.

5. Colorful Shadow

Meghan tried out a colorful, specifically purple, addition to her stunning eyes in 2012. It brings out the beauty of her brown eyes.

Get the look with a mix of MAC Power Kiss Soft Matte eyeshadow in It's Vintage and Ripened.

6. Pink, Pink, Pink!

There's nothing like deep pink for attracting attention and Meghan was certainly in the know when she showed off lips in that shade in 2006.

Get pretty in pink lips just like Meghan with MAC Satin Lipstick in Captive. It's a divinely rich pinkish plum that you can pat onto your lips for a captivating (see what I did there?) pout.

7. A Classic Red Lip

Meghan showed off her Hollywood glam with classic crimson lips in 2016. As the Duchess of Sussex is known for how much she adores Dior, I recommend going with Dior Rouge Dior Refillable Lipstick in 999 Satin, an iconic shade.

8. Back to Nude

The Duchess of Sussex is famous for her devotion to an iconic nude lipstick: Pillowtalk by Charlotte Tilbury. You can get this shade in the Matte Revolution Lipstick line, or even as a Hyaluronic HappiKiss Lipstick Balm.

9. Sweet Rosy Cheeks and Dramatic Eyes

Always mixing creativity and classic charm in her makeup ensembles, Meghan looked strikingly pretty with rosy cheeks and smoky eyeshadow in 2018.

Nars Dolce Vita is a go-to for the rosy cheek look, especially for darker skin tones. If you want something a little lighter and don't mind matte, Behave from the same line is a great choice.

If neither of those is quite right for you, I recommend Benefit Cosmetics Dandelion Baby-Pink Blush.
