First name / Queen , you've been on the waitlist. You've been patient. You've been waiting for this moment.

And I wanted to make sure you got something special for sticking with me.

So I am SO excited to announce that Business Church doors are opening early - just for you!!! 🥳

Business Church Early Access!

Join early and you're entered to a win a free
Instagram Audit!

While everyone else has to wait until Monday, February 16th, you're getting access starting TODAY, February 13th. That's 72 hours of early access before the general public!

Why does this matter?

Because we only open twice a year. Early access means you get first dibs before we announce to everyone else.

Plus, everyone who joins during early access is automatically entered to win a free Instagram Audit (valued at $350)!!! 🎉

I'll be doing a raffle on Monday and announcing the winner inside Business Church.

One of you is getting a full profile review, personalized video feedback, and a detailed PDF of recommendations - just for being a waitlist member who said yes early!

Click here to join now and get your bonus prize.

Here's what you're saying yes to:

- ✨ 1 monthly interactive activity with the community, from live coaching with Angelica to content co-working or network mixers
- ✨ Monthly working labs where you implement in real-time
- ✨ Private community of ambitious women who genuinely support your growth
- ✨ ONE quarterly marketing focus so you actually master it
- ✨ Expert masterclasses and exclusive guest trainings
- ✨ Full education vault with resources, templates, and frameworks
- ✨ Early access to all my future events, courses, and offers

....All for just $125/month ($4/day)!

Early access ends on February 16th when doors open at 8AM, so get on in before then!

You've been waiting for this. You told me you wanted in when the time came.

The time is now, and I'm opening the doors for you first. ❤️

I'm so excited for you to join the fam!

First name / Queen , for the past few weeks, I've been talking a lot about building in community and why it's important.

Why you can't figure everything out alone. Why surrounding yourself with the right people changes everything.

And the reason why is because I'm opening doors to my own community!

I'm so excited to announce that Business Church doors officially open next week! 🎉

For those of you who've been asking when you can join, here's your moment.

For those of you who've been watching from the sidelines, wondering if this is "the thing" that'll finally give you the structure, support, and strategy you've been craving...

Doors open Monday, February 16th, at 8AM EST.

We're only open twice a year, and this round is going to be SO good.

I'll be sharing more details on Monday, but here's what I want you to think about this weekend:

What would change in your business if you had a clear marketing focus each quarter instead of spinning your wheels trying to do everything at once?

What would it feel like to have a room full of ambitious women who actually get it cheering you on, holding you accountable, and celebrating your wins?

I'll give you more info on it Monday! ❤️

xo, Angelica

P.S. If you've been waiting for the "right time" to invest in community and consistent growth... Monday is it. I'll see you in your inbox with all the details.

First name / Queen , when doors to Business Church close on Friday at midnight EST, they won't open again until August. That's six whole months.

And that got me thinking...

If you're not convinced yet, I know you may be thinking, "okay, I'll just wait for the next round."

But here's what I've learned after running successful businesses for over 10 years:

Waiting doesn't make it easier. It just means 6 more months of the same patterns you're already in.

So I want you to think about what the next six months look like if you keep going the way you're going right now.

You're probably still going to be...

- ✗ Googling marketing strategies at midnight
- ✗ Bookmarking Instagram posts you swear you'll implement later
- ✗ Feeling like you're spinning your wheels without real traction
- ✗ Starting business projects and not finishing them

...All because there's no one there to help you push through when it gets hard or celebrate with you when you finally figure it out.

And I'm not saying that to scare you, .

I'm saying it because I've been there, and I know how lonely and exhausting it feels to keep building in isolation.

Now imagine what the next six months could look like if you joined us today.

✓ By March, you have a clear quarterly marketing focus and you're actually following through on it because you've got a whole community cheering you on.

✓ By April, you've implemented at least one system that's giving you back hours every single week and making you more moola.

✓ By June, you have a network of supportive women who genuinely get your business, refer clients to you, and text you encouragement when you're doubting yourself.

✓ By August, when doors open again, you won't need to join because you'll already be inside celebrating how far you've come.

The difference between those two versions of the next six months? One decision today.

Because growth happens faster and easier when you're not doing it alone.

Doors close Friday at midnight EST, and we won't extend or reopen early. In fact, doors won't open again until August - and the price goes up then!

So if you've been feeling the pull to join us,

Trust your gut and come join the family.

We'd love to have you here! 🧡

First name / Queen , I could tell you all day long about what Business Church can do for your business...

But I think you'd rather hear it from the women who are actually inside doing the work.

So here's what's been happening:

Sooo much diversity in this room! That's one thing I love about BC! It's a space where I feel accepted and comfortable. A space where I can see, ME 🙌🏽💖

I'm so happy to have joined business church! This has boosted my confidence in posting more and opened my eyes to many different social media strategies to grow business. After every meeting I feel empowered to do something new to grow my business. Thankful for the bond and the connections! A group of women who want nothing but to see each other win. What more can you ask for?!

Ladies, remember my goal of booking 75K in new travel bookings in the month of September? WELL, I crushed it and am now over $100,000 in newly booked vacations just this month with still many days left to go! Thank you Angelica Pompy for pushing US!!!!

Oh shit I posted this literally less than 3 mins ago and just got another booking for content day!

YASSSSSSSSSSSS!!!!

LFG

Wait and it was a cold person she followed me and booked at the same time

And Business church is a Godsend. Angelica- honestly. I work alone all day long everyday. I live in a remote area in an extremely small town with literally one blinking light and the community of your group is so life giving to me♡

This is just a taste of the experience and results women are seeing inside Business Church right now, First name / queen.

These are real women who were exactly where you might be right now - talented, capable, but stuck in the weeds without a clear path forward or a community to help them figure it out.

Because after building Angelica Pompy Education and coaching female entrepreneurs since 2023, I've learned...

The strategies that work aren't the complicated ones.

They're the simple, repeatable systems you actually implement because someone's there to guide you through them and hold you accountable when life gets messy.

That's why I built Business Church the way I did.

Not as another course you'll buy and never finish (trust me, I've been guilty of this too)...

But as a living, breathing community where you get:

- ✓ Real-time support
- ✓ A quarterly focus (so you're not trying to do everything at once)
- ✓ Access to the exact frameworks I've used to build my own multi-six-figure business while staying present for my family.

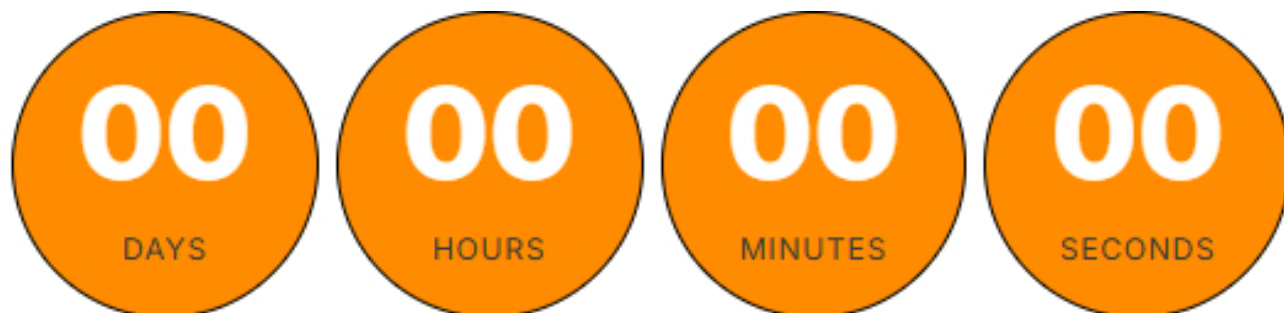

The women who get the biggest transformations inside Business Church aren't the ones who come in with everything figured out.

They're the ones who show up, ask questions, implement what we teach, and lean on the community when things get hard.

That could be you six months from now, looking back at February 2026 as the moment everything shifted.

We've got less than 48 hours before doors close,

First name / queen .

JOIN TO TRANSFORM YOUR BUSINESS

If you've been watching from the sidelines, wondering if this actually works...

I hope these stories give you the permission you need to say yes to investing in yourself and your business. 💕

xo, Angelica

P.S. I know reading testimonials can sometimes feel like "well, that's great for them, but will it work for me?" But every single one of these women had that exact same doubt before they joined. And then they trusted themselves enough to say yes.

That's the only difference between them and you right now - they made the decision.

JOIN BUSINESS CHURCH NOW

If you haven't enrolled yet, I have a feeling I know what's running through your head right now.

So let's just get down to the nitty-gritty and talk about it, yeah? I'm going to answer all your questions one by one, so sit tight - it's a long but much-needed one!

"I'm not sure if I'm ready for this level of investment."

Let me ask you something: what's it costing you to stay stuck where you are right now? Not just in money, but in confidence, momentum, and the growth you know your business is capable of?

Business Church is $125 a month. That's just a little over $4/day (and that price will go up next time doors open).

That's less than most entrepreneurs spend on their morning coffee and lunch meetings!

And it's less than one coaching session with most business coaches (which typically run $200-$750 per session. Heck, even mine are $597!!).

Inside, you get:

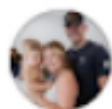

- Working labs led by me
- A guided interactive activity each month to build your business with your peers
- A whole community
- Expert trainings
- The full resource vault.

And unlike those one-off expenses, this investment compounds.

Like the results just a few members got:

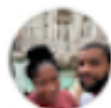

We increased our revenue from April 2024 to this April by 175%!!!! This is huge.

Just sent out a quote for my biggest job yet, a 12 month construction site progress job with drone 📸

It's been the busiest "slow" season since starting my bookkeeping firm 4 years ago. Connections I've made from years ago have become long term clients.

6 new patients this week...all from referrals!

Like Reply

The clarity you gain, the systems you build, the connections you make - those stay with you long after you're a member.

And if you keep implementing the systems, you'll make that back from just one extra sale - times however many more you make with them in place.

"Is this even for me? Am I ready for this?"

Here's who Business Church is for:

- ✓ You're already running a business with $125 to invest in your growth monthly.
- ✓ You have clients or customers, you're making money, but you know you could be growing faster or more sustainably if you had better systems and support.
- ✓ You're tired of piecing together free content and DIY strategies that aren't quite working. You're ready to invest in guidance that's tailored to where you actually are.
- ✓ You want community and accountability, not just another course you'll buy and never finish.

✅ You're willing to show up, ask questions, and implement what you learn (even when it feels uncomfortable).

Here's who Business Church is NOT for:

❌ You're still in the idea stage and haven't signed your first client yet. (You need different support right now - we can talk about other options.)

❌ You're looking for a magic bullet that will grow your business without you having to do any work. (Business Church gives you the roadmap and support, but you still have to drive.)

❌ You're not ready to invest in your business growth right now. (And that's okay! Enrollment will be here later in the year when you are.)

"I don't have time for another thing right now."

I get it. Your plate is already full.

But I want you to consider something: how much time are you spending right now trying to figure things out alone? Googling strategies, starting and stopping different approaches, second-guessing every marketing decision you make?

If you're anything like me back in the day, hours and hours.

Business Church isn't about adding more to your plate. It's about getting clear on what actually matters so you can stop wasting time on things that don't move the needle.

Our members tell us they actually save time because they finally have a focused plan instead of spinning their wheels.

That's time back in your life.

"What if I join and don't use it?"

This is a real concern, and I appreciate you being honest about it.

But we only meet twice a month for live calls, and everything is recorded if you can't make it live.

The working labs are designed for implementation, so you're not just learning - you're actually doing the work right there, in that moment, with support.

Plus, you have a whole community in a private mobile app asking questions and sharing wins daily. Even on your busiest weeks, you're still surrounded by momentum and accountability. That makes a HUGE difference.

"What if it doesn't work for me?"

This is a valid question, and one of the biggest fears people have.

I'll tell you this: The women who get the most out of Business Church are the ones who show up and engage. That's it.

You get out what you put in it.

You don't need to have everything figured out. You don't need to be at a certain revenue level.

You just need to be willing to ask questions, implement what resonates, and let the community support you.

If you're willing to do that, it works. I've seen it happen hundreds of times.

There's one thing I know for sure, First name / queen ...

The version of you six months from now who joined today will be grateful you trusted yourself enough to say yes. The version of you who waited will still be wondering "what if?"

I don't want you to wonder anymore.

Doors close tomorrow at midnight EST, and they don't open again until later this year (at a higher price).

I'd love to welcome you inside. ❤️

LAST CHANCE TO JOIN

BUSINESS CHURCH

Doors close at midnight EST!

LAST
TO JOIN!

First name / Queen , this is it (Michael Jackson style!).

Doors to Business Church close tonight at midnight EST, and I won't be reopening them until later this year.

There won't be any extensions or exceptions, and the price will go up.

JOIN BUSINESS CHURCH NOW

I know you've been thinking about it. Maybe you've read every email this week, clicked through to the sales page a few times, and talked yourself in and out of it more than once.

And trust me, I totally get it! Big decisions take time.

But you have less than 12 hours to decide if you're joining us or waiting another six months.

So let me ask you one last question, :

What would need to be true for you to say yes today?

If it's clarity on whether this is right for you, I hope the emails this week have given you that.

If it's proof that it works, I've shared real results from real women.

If it's addressing your concerns, we talked through those yesterday.

If you're still here, still reading, still thinking about it... that means something.

It means part of you knows you need this.

Part of you is ready to stop doing it alone and start building in community.

Part of you wants the structure, the support, and the clarity that comes with being inside Business Church.

So trust your intuition, First name / queen ! What's the worst thing that could happen?

You join for $4/day...

...Show up for the next six months, implement what we teach, and grow your business faster than you would have on your own...

...Build genuine relationships with other ambitious women who believe in community over competition...

...And finally get the marketing systems in place that you've been putting off?

That doesn't sound so bad, does it?

I'd love to see you inside. We're doing some pretty amazing things in there!

First name / Queen , I know I've been in your inbox a lot this week, so I'll keep this short.

Doors to Business Church close tonight at midnight EST, and I wanted to send you a reminder in case it's been sitting in the back of your mind.

Here's where we are: you have about 10 hours left to decide if you're joining us or waiting until August when doors open again and the price goes up.

JOIN BUSINESS CHURCH NOW

If you've been feeling that pull all week - that little voice saying "this could be exactly what I need right now" - I want you to trust that.

As a reminder, here's what you get:

- ✦ 1 monthly interactive activity with the community (live coaching with Angelica, content co-working, or network mixers)
- ✦ Monthly working labs where you implement (not just learn)
- ✦ Private community of ambitious women who actually get it
- ✦ Quarterly marketing focus so you stop spinning your wheels
- ✦ Expert guest trainings
- ✦ Full vault of resources, templates, and mini-courses
- ✦ Early access to all my events and offers

If that sounds like what you need, I'd love to welcome you inside tonight,

First name / queen .

P.S. Still thinking about it? That's okay. But if you know deep down that you're ready for this, don't let overthinking talk you out of it.

Sometimes the best decisions are the ones that scare us a little. After all, courage isn't the absence of fear - it's choosing to move forward anyway.

And the best part about it? You won't be alone once you take that step.
