MANDARIN HISTORY

Mandarin has been honoured numerous times since it first opened. In 2004, Foodservice and Hospitality magazine named the Mandarin franchise as Company of the Year.

December 8, 1979 - Mandarin was founded by James Chiu, George Chiu, K.C. Chang, and Diana Chiu; all of whom had many years of restaurant experience in Montreal and New York. Together, they moved to Ontario, Canada in 1979 and purchased a small restaurant with Chinese-Canadian décor offering à-la-carte, take-out, and delivery. The restaurant was called "Mandarin" and was located on Queen Street in Brampton, Ontario.

Mandarin Brampton expanded to 9,000 sq ft. and changed to a Chinese buffet concept to accommodate the long line-ups of customers. The buffet concept worked well and they decided to expand. In 1988, several loyal and co-operative employees from the original Mandarin became the first partners of the new restaurant located in Mississauga. Mandarin Head Office was established to accommodate the expanding business.

July 1, 1996 - Mandarin held its first Canada Day Celebration, opening the doors to all Canadians for a free buffet meal and serving over 15,000 guests. Mandarin would continue to honour and thank Canada by providing free meals on Canada Day in 2004, 2009, 2014, and 2019. Over 130,000 customers have participated and enjoyed these celebrations.

CHINESE TRADITION & CELEBRATION

The most recent Chinese New Year related to the Dragon was in 2024. In the Chinese zodiac, the Dragon is one of the twelve animal signs and is considered an auspicious symbol associated with strength, power, and good fortune.

Mandarin restaurants in Canada celebrate Chinese New Year in various ways that honor the cultural significance of this important festival. One notable feature is the introduction of special Chinese New Year menus featuring traditional dishes like whole fish, dumplings, and longevity noodles, symbolizing prosperity and good fortune.

These restaurants also transform their spaces with traditional decorations such as red lanterns, auspicious couplets, and symbolic imagery like dragons and lions, creating a festive ambiance.

A promotional banner for Mandarin restaurant's Chinese New Year celebration. The background is red with a golden dragon and floral patterns. The text reads: '2024 YEAR OF THE DRAGON', 'MANDARIN.', 'HAPPY CHINESE NEW YEAR', 'January 22 to March 3', and 'Dine-In • Take-Out • Delivery'. At the bottom, there are five images of food items: Har Gow, Chicken Dumplings, Siu Mai, Lobster & Shrimp Bisque, and Egg Custard Tart.

Mandarin was great, the atmosphere was great and the food was fabulous but more importantly Krishna, Samun and Naren was attentive and always around the corner with a smile and ready to help! They made the experience great! It was nice to also see Charles the manager go round to individually ask guests if they were having a nice time, my son says to give a 5 star review 😊😊
