Staying Cool While Camping in your Teardrop Trailer

We all know that Colorado Teardrop trailers are cool. But did you know a teardrop trailer can also help keep you cooler and more relaxed when camping in the warmer months? It's true! And we all know that camping isn't just about looking cool. It's about staying cool and comfortable. We've got some ideas to help keep you comfortable while you're out finding your adventure!

Insulation Makes a Difference

Yes, teardrop trailers are smaller than most RVs, but that doesn't mean you have to skimp on the details that will keep you comfortable while camping. We've paid attention to the details – like insulation – when building our teardrop trailers. Insulation is not just a great idea to keep you warm, but it can help keep you cooler, too. Just like in your home, proper insulation acts as a thermal barrier and can slow heat transfer. Find a shady spot for your trailer, and that will work to keep you cooler, too.

Not only does insulation help to keep the temperature more comfortable, but it can also help keep water and food cooler, too—more on that next.

Check out the Colorado Teardrop Gear page here (https://web.archive.org/web/20220521121524/https://coloradoteardrops.com/gear/) for our picks on energy, cooler and off-grid air conditioning!

Keeping Food and Drinks Cool

You'll find that Colorado Teardrop trailer's insulated galley walls and doors will not only help keep food in your galley fresh when it is all closed up, but it will also keep your coolers and chillers working more efficiently. And that means a longer life for ice and cold drinks – which is important because at Colorado Teardrops, we know that many of us prefer a cold drink with our warm summer sunsets. Shop the gear page (https://web.archive.org/web/20220521121524/https://coloradoteardrops.com/gear/) on our site for our recommended picks for coolers and chillers.

Water, Water Everywhere

Whether you bring your water supply or you're relying on the water at your destination, make sure you always have access to clean water for drinking. Don't count on drinking water from streams or lakes without purifying. Even though it looks clean, it can have bacteria, parasites or viruses that can harm pets and humans.

Colorado Teardrops provides an option for 11.6 gallons of onboard water that can be used with an optional outdoor shower or sink faucet. Just hit the pump switch, and let the magic begin. On-demand hot or cold running water takes camping to a whole new level.

You can use water for cooling wearables, too. A few small towels or bandanas can be wetted and worn to keep you cool while you're on the trail or in the hammock. Or, if you want the ultimate cooling experience, check out the RunCool Ice Bandana by Nathan (https://web.archive.org/web/20220521121524/https://www.nathansports.com/products/runcool-ice-bandana) or Kafka's Kool Tie (https://web.archive.org/web/20220521121524/https://www.rei.com/product/691097/kafkas-kool-tie).

And don't forget your pets. They'll need clean water to stay cool too. Don't take any chances; bringing fresh water with you is usually your best bet. Staying Cool from the Outside In Parking your teardrop trailer in a spot that gets shade during the hottest part of the day is a great first step to staying cool, but consider an awning, too. An awning can keep the sun out of your eyes and make a shady spot for relaxing, napping, eating, or unwinding. Check out our gear page (https://web.archive.org/web/20220521121524/https://coloradoteardrops.com/gear/) for some of our favorite awning picks.

Starting with a well-insulated teardrop trailer can keep you and your camping crew looking fresh and feeling cool all season. Stay cool and comfy while camping with a few simple tips and tricks, or optional upgrades.

Happy Camping!
