One shared workspace

End scattered planning. Manage projects, briefs, tasks, and timelines in one place—built specifically for content teams.

Clear progress tracking

Get real-time visibility into every project's status, dependencies, and blockers. No more Slack chases or status guessing.

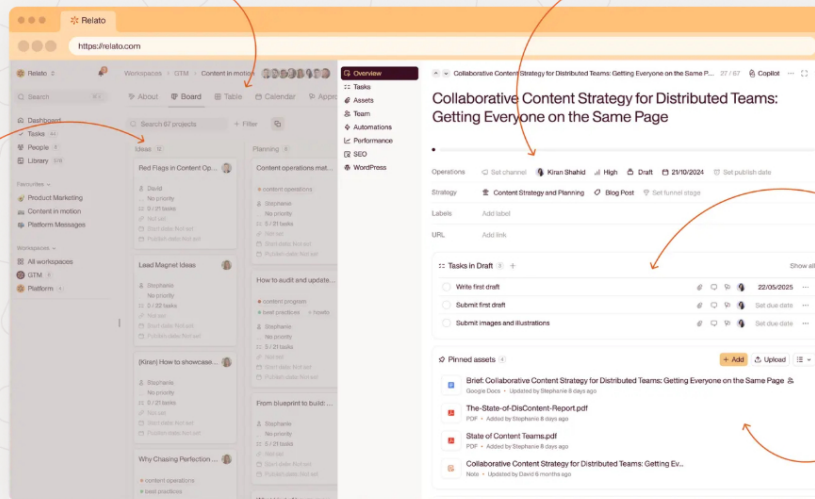

Collaboration without chaos

Assign tasks, loop in freelancers, and involve stakeholders—without creating confusion or compromising focus.

Switch between board, table, calendar, and approvals to view progress your way—without losing context.

Instantly see who's responsible for what with visible ownership and activity in every view.

Track every project from idea to publish with full visibility across campaigns and teammates

Break projects down into clear, trackable tasks, and add due dates, assign owners.

Attach briefs, drafts, reports, and PDFs directly to the project

Views built for content work

Work how you want: switch between calendar, board, and table views to manage production across campaigns and channels.

Granular access for distributed teams

Assign access by project, workspace, or role. Freelancers see just their tasks. Legal sees only what needs sign-off. Everyone gets exactly what they need.

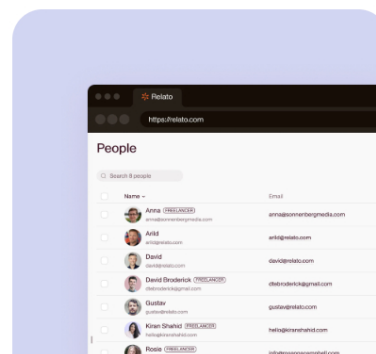

Link tasks to content and strategy

Connect every task to its brief, file, or strategic objective so nothing gets lost in translation.

No seats, no limits

Invite your full team—freelancers, agencies, reviewers—without worrying about seat costs or platform workarounds.
