Are you taking a modern approach to clinician training?

Without Skilljar

- Rely on pricey, multi-day, in-person training.
- Wrestle with LMS platforms not cut out for healthcare's unique demands—including industry certifications and continuing education accreditations.
- Lose track of training attendance, making compliance a guessing game.
- Leave learners to navigate the learning maze on their own.
- One-size-fits-all training that overlooks individual roles, locations, or credential levels.
- Drown in manual spreadsheet tracking for enrollments.

With Skilljar

- Blend in-person and online training for flexible, clinician-friendly learning.
- Enjoy healthcare-specific workflows for automated enrollments, certification expirations, and course purchasing.
- Harness direct registrations within your Academy, complete with calendar syncing and attendance tracking.
- Guide every learner into a group that experiences a personalized path, right from the start.
- Customize training experiences by role, location, or level, with intuitive search and filtering.
- Leave manual tracking behind with automatic progress tracking and insightful analytics.

Empower clinicians with your product, from day one and beyond

Navigating the health care landscape demands constant learning. Tackle practice and workflow shifts and meet regulatory needs with dynamic training.

Host live trainings and webinars

Skilljar smooths out the tech bumps, making live training sessions a breeze with Zoom and Webex. Easy registrations, synced calendars, no sweat.

Offer structured learning paths

Guide every clinician with tailored courses. Whether it's by role or subscription, our analytics spotlight where learners might need a nudge.

Provide targeted content

Segment your audience like a pro. Whether it's by job title or location, create custom learning spaces that resonate with every clinician's needs.

Run a Continuing Education program

Award certificates upon program or course completion. Automate expiration reminders, and with a few clicks, send off reports to accrediting bodies. Compliance made simple.

Sell your training and courses

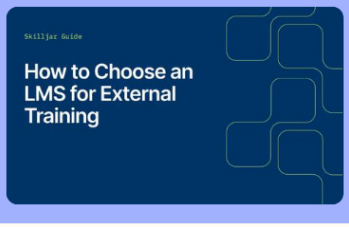

Turn training into a revenue stream. Charge for courses, paths, subscriptions, or credits, all seamlessly integrated with payment processors and Salesforce.
