We believe teachers are superheroes, not super human.

Teachers do the impossible...

- They never give up on kids. Ever.
- Because where some only see the effects of poverty or trauma, they see bright futures.
- They're coaches, therapists, magicians, and custodians all before sunrise.
- Guiding the next generation of dreamers and doers, while standing in the face of bullies, boredom, and bureaucracy.
- They return day after day, often lacking the supplies, wage, or respect they deserve.
- And yet, they do it all with a patience and grace most of us can only aspire to.

...but they can't do it alone.

We stand with teachers.

Where teachers go, we go. We trust them. We support them. Forever in awe of the work they do, we are inspired to deliver our best in service of their efforts.

Because where others make excuses, teachers make a difference.

Teachers: We've got your back.

That's why we're excited to announce the Educators for Equity Grant Program. This summer, we'll be awarding multiple grants—up to $10,000 each—so teachers can better support essential student growth programs and close the opportunity gaps that affect achievement.

No strings. No voting. No gimmicks. Just the resources you need to help kids shine.

Learn more at NWEA.org/equitygrant and apply by June 30.
