

Internal Messaging

Value statement for new educational tool to purchasing company:

Skill Up is Big Tech Inc.'s new cloud-based employee education tool made with your company in mind. No one wants a stagnant workforce and with Skill Up, that will never be the case.

Compatible with any employee intranet, Skill Up was engineered to be a secure platform for onboarding and skill development. Consisting of a wide range of courses with the latest advancements in your field, it will serve as your dedicated platform for employee success.

Features and benefits:

- Secure smartphone app
- Real-time updates
- E-learning directory: For employees, an easy-to-use and searchable database of all courses available.
- Analytics: For employers, a data-driven collection of when and how many courses an employee consumes.
- Scheduling: For those who'd like to collaborate on courses.
- Push notifications: For those who need a little reminder.

Compliant with all government regulations, Skill Up will allow you to invest in their future and yours.

Email to managers:

Say hello to Skill Up!

Employee development is vital to the overall health of a company but can be difficult for managers to organize. That's no longer the case thanks to Big Tech Inc.

You now have access to Skill Up, a cloud-based education tool that makes it easy and appealing for your staff to build on their existing knowledge and abilities.

Here's how it works:

- Assign titles to your staff or let them explore. There's an easy-to-use and searchable e-learning directory of all courses available.
- Skill Up can be launched anywhere, anytime via our secure app. Let your staff learn at their own pace.
- Work solo or bounce ideas off coworkers, Skill Up offers both options!
- Reminder notifications—just in case.

Besides our educational resources, Skill Up can also be used for onboarding, regular operational announcements, and coordinating calendars. Basically, it's your one-stop shop for success.

What are you waiting for? Get started today!