

TALE OF A WARRIOR

From the Emmy® Award-winning team that brought you the acclaimed feature film THE HOUSE THAT ROB BUILT, the new half-hour documentary NATIVE BALL: LEGACY OF A TRAILBLAZER follows the story of acclaimed Lady Griz player Malia Kipp (Blackfeet Nation).

The first female Native American athlete recruited by legendary coach Rob Selvig to the University of Montana – and the first Native female athlete from Montana to earn a full-ride Division I basketball scholarship – Kipp became a Warrior in the eyes of her people, both on the basketball court and in life.

Her grit and perseverance inspired other young athletes to follow her example. Now, as a tribal nurse, she continues to lead with her dedication to family, community and serving the elders who served her.

NATIVE BALL makes its World Premiere at the 2023 Big Sky Documentary Film Festival. More details to follow when available!
