Revolver Lounge replaces SIX in Old Town - Phoenix Examiner (AZ) - May 30, 2010

Out with the old and in with the new seems to be the theme in Scottsdale nightlife trends these days. The real estate in the area is turning over faster than you can even order a drink in this town. When super swanky Scottsdale lounge Six bit the bullet awhile back the space remained empty, only the stories of celebrity sightings of yesteryear remained. In the space now has popped up Revolver Lounge, a hybrid of saloon and hip hop swagger.

As you walk into the doors there are guns, hence, the name Revolver Lounge carved outside into the sidewalk. Waiting outside of the Lounge you feel the energy inside on a Saturday night. The place will go from empty to completely packed in seconds flat. The bouncers are good at what they do.

The layout is not much different from the one Six used to have with a dance floor area just in front of the main bar. The DJ here plays excellent beats that gets everyone moving on the dance floor. Drinks are also well mixed and easy to get even if the place is super busy.

However, the great thing about Revolver is that it can cater to all types of people from the amateurs to the nightlife pros. It strikes the ever so important balance between lounge and dance club. Casual yet sexy and is all together a welcome addition on Stetson Dr.
