DINING GUIDE

Epicurean Catering Company

Epicurean Catering Company is a well-established division of Rice Epicurean Markets, offering an incredible array of delicious noveau and traditional menu possibilities.

Masters of the art of presentation, our chefs prepare every item from scratch for serving at home, the office or any off-premise site. We match the pride you take in entertaining and understand the challenges you face in pulling off an appropriate and memorable event – from diverse wedding receptions to corporate functions or discriminating social gatherings. Our commitment to combining outstanding food, innovative presentation and flawless planning and coordination allows us to produce upscale events that consistently exceed our clients' expectations of taste, quality and value.

Officially started in September 1996, the Catering Company had for 9 years, been under the Epicurean umbrella, doing events small and large for friends and family of the company.

Under the leadership of both Douglas Dick, director of food service, and Tom Palmer, corporate executive chef, menus were developed and experienced catering staff were hired. Over the years, events were orchestrated in almost every venue of the greater Houston area. Epicurean Catering Company is on the preferred caters' list of Houston's top choices, including the Museum of Fine Arts, Museum of Natural Science, Children's Museum, Rice Hotel Crystal Ballroom, Paraiso Marvilla and the River Oaks Garden Club, to name a few.

No event is to small or too large for the company's capabilities, from handling Houston's elite social affairs to catering the Cattle Baron's Ball.

Now you know why, at Epicurean Catering Company, it's not just food – it's art.
