

INDUSTRIES ADVANSIX SERVES

It all starts with our essential chemistries that make innovative solutions possible. We strive to deliver best-in-class customer experiences and differentiated offerings that are the building blocks for countless products that touch people's daily lives. Our portfolio of plant nutrients, chemical intermediates and nylon solutions are essential materials used in a wide range of industries.

Agriculture & Feed

Our agricultural chemical solutions help farmers grow the crops that feed the world.

AdvanSix proudly supplies products that help grow plants, control pests and preserve crops. We're agroscience leaders, continually innovating to find new solutions to help farmers grow food to feed people around the world. On field after field, Sulf-N® ammonium sulfate efficiently provides nutrients crops crave and is used as an adjuvant to improve herbicide efficacy.

Choose AdvanSix as your diversified chemistry partner to avoid cost swings on imported fertilizers impacted by tariffs, ensure timely application during short planting and growing windows, and strengthen your commitment to U.S. agriculture.
